It is most carnestly to be desired that the questions raised by Governor Hennessy's system of "personal" Government will be set at rest before Mr Marsh's arrival.

A CORRESPONDENT draws our attention to the fact that the whole of the European and Portuguese staff of the Surveyor General's Department (about fourteen) attended the funeral of their late fellow-officer, Mr Prestage. We gladly record this graceful tribute to the memory of a deceased Government servant paid, by those associated with him in the Department, and we do so the more readily as the paragraph previously getting him to consent to go with him to published failed to note the circumstance.

day about the Shanghai Mixed Court; we give it as a newspaporial curiosity: -

At Shanghai, where we and some other European nations and the United States have establishments, native criminals are dealt with by what is called a "mixed court." It is so called, no doubt, because a European or American consul or other resident sits with the Chinese judge; but in all other respects it has little pretension to its title; for its course of procedure and its punishments appear to be of Chinese barbarism, unmixed with the faintest trace of European sense or humanity. Thus, a prisoner who refuses to divulge the names of his accomplices is ordered to receive fifty blows on the face; and if these, administered apparently on the spot, fail to overcome his contumacy, another fifty may be ordered. Beating the ankles with hammers, and kneeling on chains with the feet braced up, are other me hods of persuasion which are employed by this mixed tribunal, graced as it is by the countenance and sanction of an of some great Christian Power. According to a tabulated report prepared | place. Consular Gazette, the punishments corsist of terrible floggings, or else of the canque, or heavy table in which the weaver's neck is enclosed, and which prevents him from lying down or from feeding bi aself. That such practices should go on from year's and to year's end with the placid acquiescence of influential European communities seems hardly credible. It is to be hoped, at all events, that they will not long survive the publicity which Mr Parry has given them. If the nurupean assessor is to sit on the judgment-seat simply to give the countenance of civilization and Christianity to the stupid and horrible barbarities of the Chinese-to concur with a mandarin in administering blows on the mouth or han mering the ankles of prisoners who refuse to confess or to "peach"-the scoper he is removed from so shameful a post the better for himself and the civilized Power which he represents.

THE Australarian of the 26th June publishes the following statistics of the amount of specie and gold exported from Victoria to China since 1851, and the number of Chinese in gaols and asylums in the Colony, according to an official return recently laid before the Legislative Assembly :-

The number of Chinamen in gaols and penal establishments was set down at 47, and those in the lunatic asylums at 89. The annual cost of the former was £28 2s. 11d, per head per annum, and of the latter 6d. There were also in the lazarette at Balarat five Chinese, the cost of whom, in the financial year 1878-9, was £227 13s. 7d.; and to the 80th April, in 1879-80, £122 5s. 6d. The quantity of gold exported to China in the years 1851-8 was nik. In 1854, it was 1,250cs; in 1855 80,8870z; In 1856, 120,223uz; and in 1857 139,350oz. From the latter year to 1876 there was a gradual decrease in the amount exported until in 1876 it was only 75oz. Since the latter year neither gold nor specie has been exported to China. The amount of specie exported rose gradually from £5.487 in 1855 to £101,425 in 1868, and it then gradually fell to £1,632 in 1875, when the export cased altogether. The total amount of Victorian gold exported to China from 1851 to 1876 was 885,065oz. of the value of £3,581,956, and from 1864 to 1875 there was exported 12,925os or gold other than Victorian. The total value of the specie exported from 1851 to 1875 was £712,230.

BULOPEAN ASSAULT CASE. James Hardie, engineer, Gas Works,

West Point, was charged on a summons, issued at the instance of John Mitchell, engineer, residing at the Victoria Club, for assaulting and beating him on the 25th

Defendant pleaded not guilty. John Mitchell, sworn, said :- I am Chief Engineer of the British steamer America. I am at present staying at the Victoria Club, Wyndham Street. - Yesterday morning about 10.30 to 10.45 I had occasion to go to Moore Seimund's store, Praya, near the Canton Wharf. I had been there about five minutes talking to Mr Seimund and the Capt. of the Penedo. Defendant came up to me and put his hand on my shoulder. He was in a very excited condition. He said he wanted to speak to me when I was disengaged. He stood glaring at me through the rails which are round the office in which I was with Mr Selmund and Capt. Caine. Mr Seimund then took the defendant to another part of the store and tried to pacify him. I saw what was going While I continued my conversation with Cant. Caine I debated with myself whether I should meet him there or not. I thought it better to what he wanted with me then, thus avoid the unpleasantness of meeting him on the street, and perhaps having a public scene. So I went to where Mr Seimund and the defendant were, and said I was ready to see tim, if he had any business with me. He put his hand on my shoulder, gripped my shoulder I should saked him to walk out, he did so quietly rather say, and said he wanted me to come out. I refused to go outside. He said, - I did not require to turn him out by force. "Very well, what I have to do I can do here." I was about to take a seat on one of the benches, when without a word of warning, without so much to put me on my guard as that (snapping his finger and thumb), he struck me on the left temple, knocking me down. He struck me also on the left side in the region of the heart. My pocket book saved me from that blow to some extent. Be struck me four or five times on the head afterwards. I spoke to Mr Hardie and asked him to go outside I saw from his excited state that there was some troublesomeness affoat. He walker inside again, and Mr Mitchell came towards us and they began to talk together; I walked away. I did not desire to overhear their conversation. The next thing that I saw was Mr Hardie striking Mr Mitchell a severe blow on the head, one blow. This was with his fist or hand; I cannot say which. Mitchell tried to ward the blow with his hand, but the blow fell on him striking him on the temple. He was his very hard. I then went up to him and said I could not allow this sort of thing to go on in my store. Mitchell was doubled up by another blow which struck him in the side. His breath was taken away for a moment. He was sitting on a bench when he was struck. The blow did not knock him off the bench. He did not fall down. I do not know that this was the first blow. I should say it was not, because I only turned round and looked towards them when I heard Mitchell cry out. He said something like,-" Now, don't do that." This was the only blow I saw given. The defendant may have struck the complainant severa times before I turned round and said this and went towards them. I have every reason to believe he did. He did not strike

EMANCIPATION OF SLAVES IN NETHERLANDS INDIA.

The emancipation of slaves by Government is being proceeded with in Netherlands India, the latest recorded instance being that of the slaves in Pangkalan Kotta Baru and XII Kotta Baru, two recently annexed districts in the Padang Highlands. The following particulars are from the official report published at from the Javasche Courant for the Straits

"The ceremony accompanying the liberation of these slaves was arranged they discussed the National Assembly as follows. On ground selected outside the village or campong, a capacious and neat building decorated with flags and coloured cloth was constructed for the feast to be given to the people, a portion of an unfinished house being converted into a grand stand for the Assistant Resident of the L. Kottas and the other Officials. Early in the morning of the 17th April the Assistant Resident and the Controleur were waited upon by a deputation of headmen who accompanied them to the festive gathering place where they occupied positions in Gensan at the end of last month, which exsigned to them. The headmen of the village of Kotta Baru arranged themselves in a circle around the grant within a covered space, while the owners of the slaves and the slaves themselves and This is the first time a sailing ship has with them the people who had flocked visited the port of Gensan. tress China Lieview, Hongkong -Northern Christian descate (U.S.) Trabuer's Oriental Record contains the fulowing notice of the China Review : - " To as r the title of a publication, the first number god whi h has lately reached us from Hong Cong, where it has been set on foot as to some respects a continuation of Notes and Guerres on thing and Japan, the extinction if which useful serial a year or two ago has eeen much regretted in Europe as well as in China. Thepresent publication, judging by the number new before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and unneighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Leview. The great degree of atcention that has been bestowed of late years ! on on the investigation of Chinese literature, | - Moore's Variety Store, 42, aptiquities, and social developments, to say | Oneen's Road. bothing of hi guistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of informaficity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest for Negretti & Zambra. may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese

In a paper on Lr. Legge's She King, by the Rev. E. J. Eitel, to which the place of honour is deservedly given, an excellent summary is presented of the chronological problems and arguments involved in connexion with this important work. Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that "Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be haped that this opening for contributions may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance. The publication is intendform a substantial octavo magazine.

It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever usued under purely native direction. The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing. The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Forts in China and Japan,trom Australia, California, Singapore, I trang, Saigon, and other places frequented by the Chinese, -consider themselves justified in guarantosing an ultimate circulation of between 3,000 and 4,000 copies. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of

The field open to a paper of this descrip tion-conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstructive in tonein almost limitless. It on the one hand commands Chinese belief and interest while on the other deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners. Like English journals it contains Editorialswith Local, Shipping, and Commercial News and Advertisements.
